

Gert the SEE Turtle

in:

Counting

Written & Illustrated By
MAXINE MOODY POSTON

Gert is a SEE turtle from the sea. Gert was born on Seegrove Lane in Mild Dunes, SC to a family of loggerhead sea turtles. Instead of joining her brothers and sisters as they were swimming out to sea, she decided to follow her dream to stay on the beach and learn all she can while living on the coast. Gert's mother gave her a "pearls of wisdom" necklace to wear as a reminder to make wise choices as she explores her new world.

This is the first book of the "Gert the SEE Turtle" series.

GERT'S SONG

Gert is a little turtle from the sea
Doing things her own way
Jumps into her conch shell and sails all around Exploring throughout the day
She's a SEE turtle, from the sea turtle
Learning everything within her reach
She's a SEE turtle, from the sea turtle
Exploring all around the beach

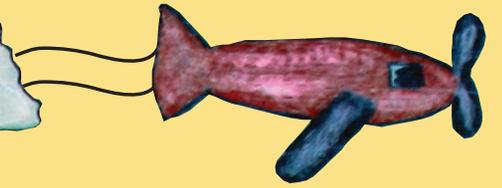

Copyright © 1996 by
Maxine Moody Poston
ISBN: 978-0-615-52446-7

PRINTED IN SOUTH CAROLINA, U.S.A.

All rights reserved. No part of this book may be reproduced.

SEE TURTLE PUBLISHING
Isle of Palms, SC

General Education with Respect to Turtles

Thank you to my beautiful children:

Elizabeth Jean, Eric Chalmers

Lane Strom

and to my nephews:

Mitchell Reed, Philip Reed

and Hugh Shirley

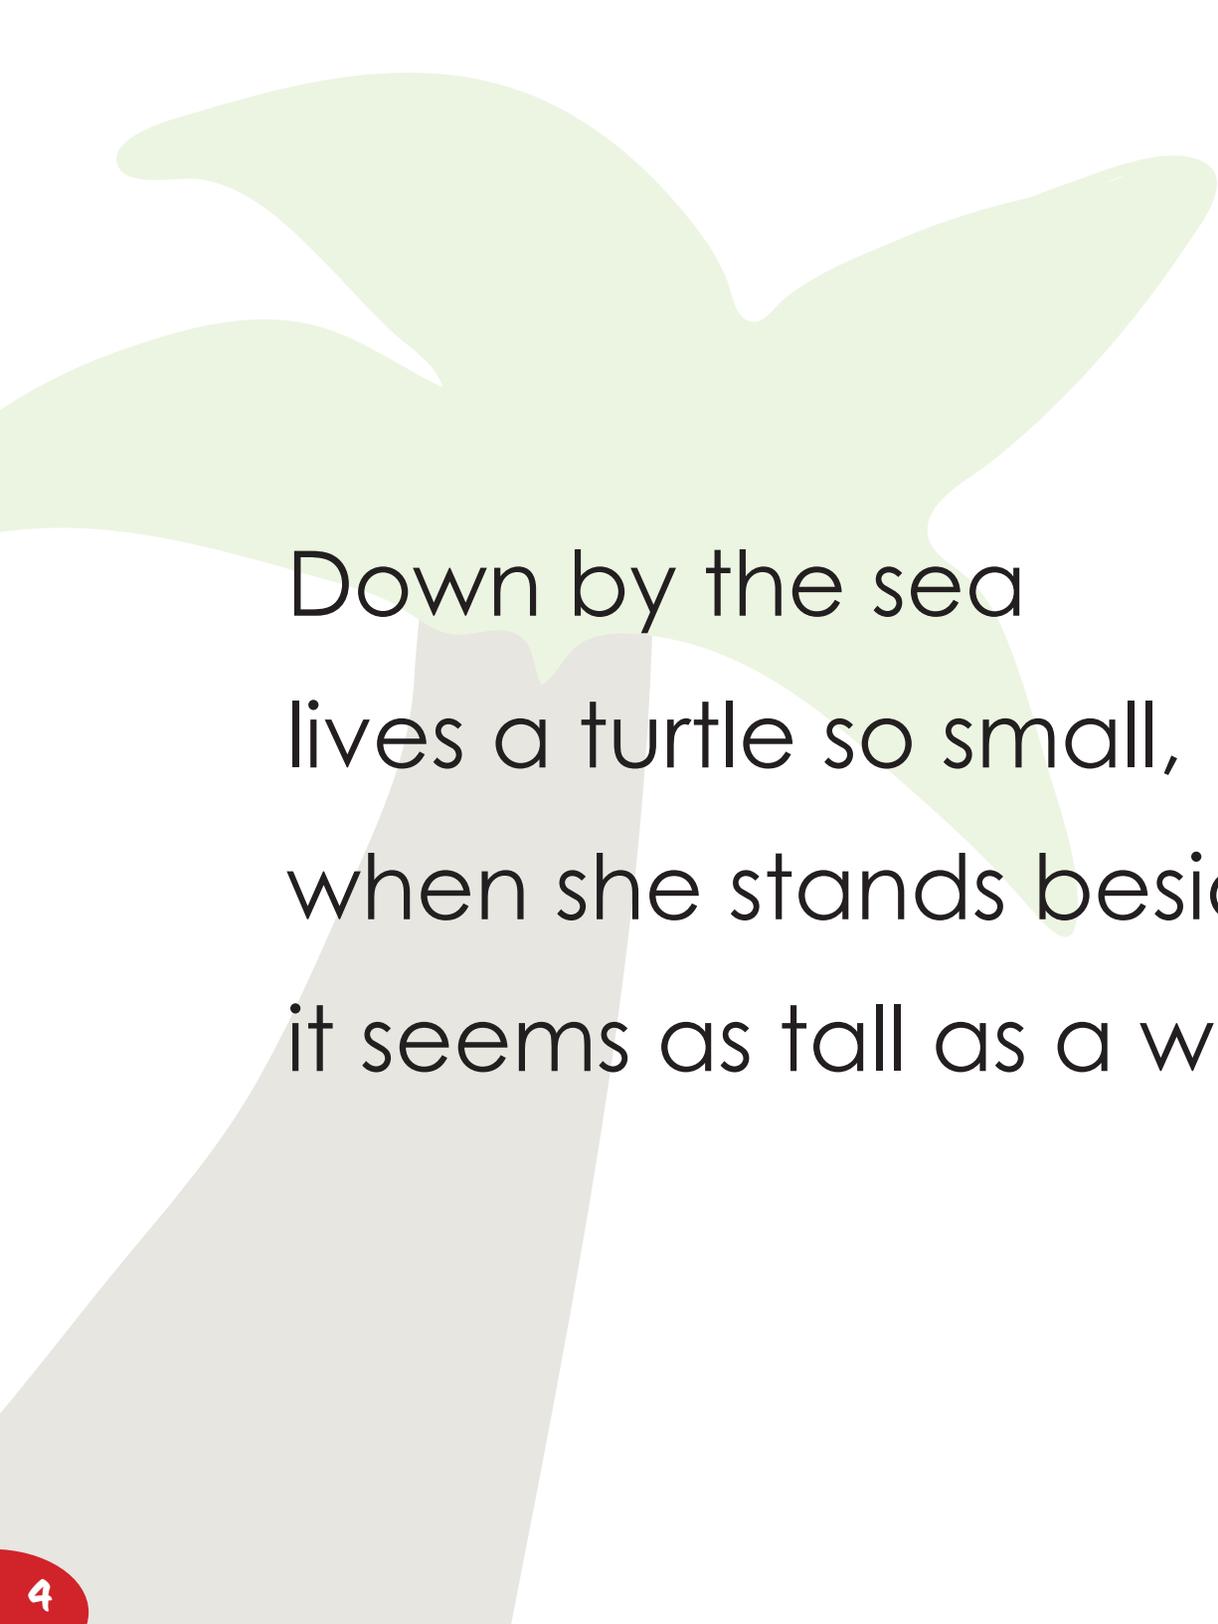

and to my husband

Hal

for their love and encouragement.

Please help to improve the lives of children and sea turtles

Down by the sea lives a turtle so small, when she stands beside driftwood
it seems as tall as a wall.

But that is okay
with this tiny turtle Gert.
It doesn't cross her mind that she could ever get hurt.

Gert spends her days exploring all around the beach, where everything she sees is counted, each by each.

1

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

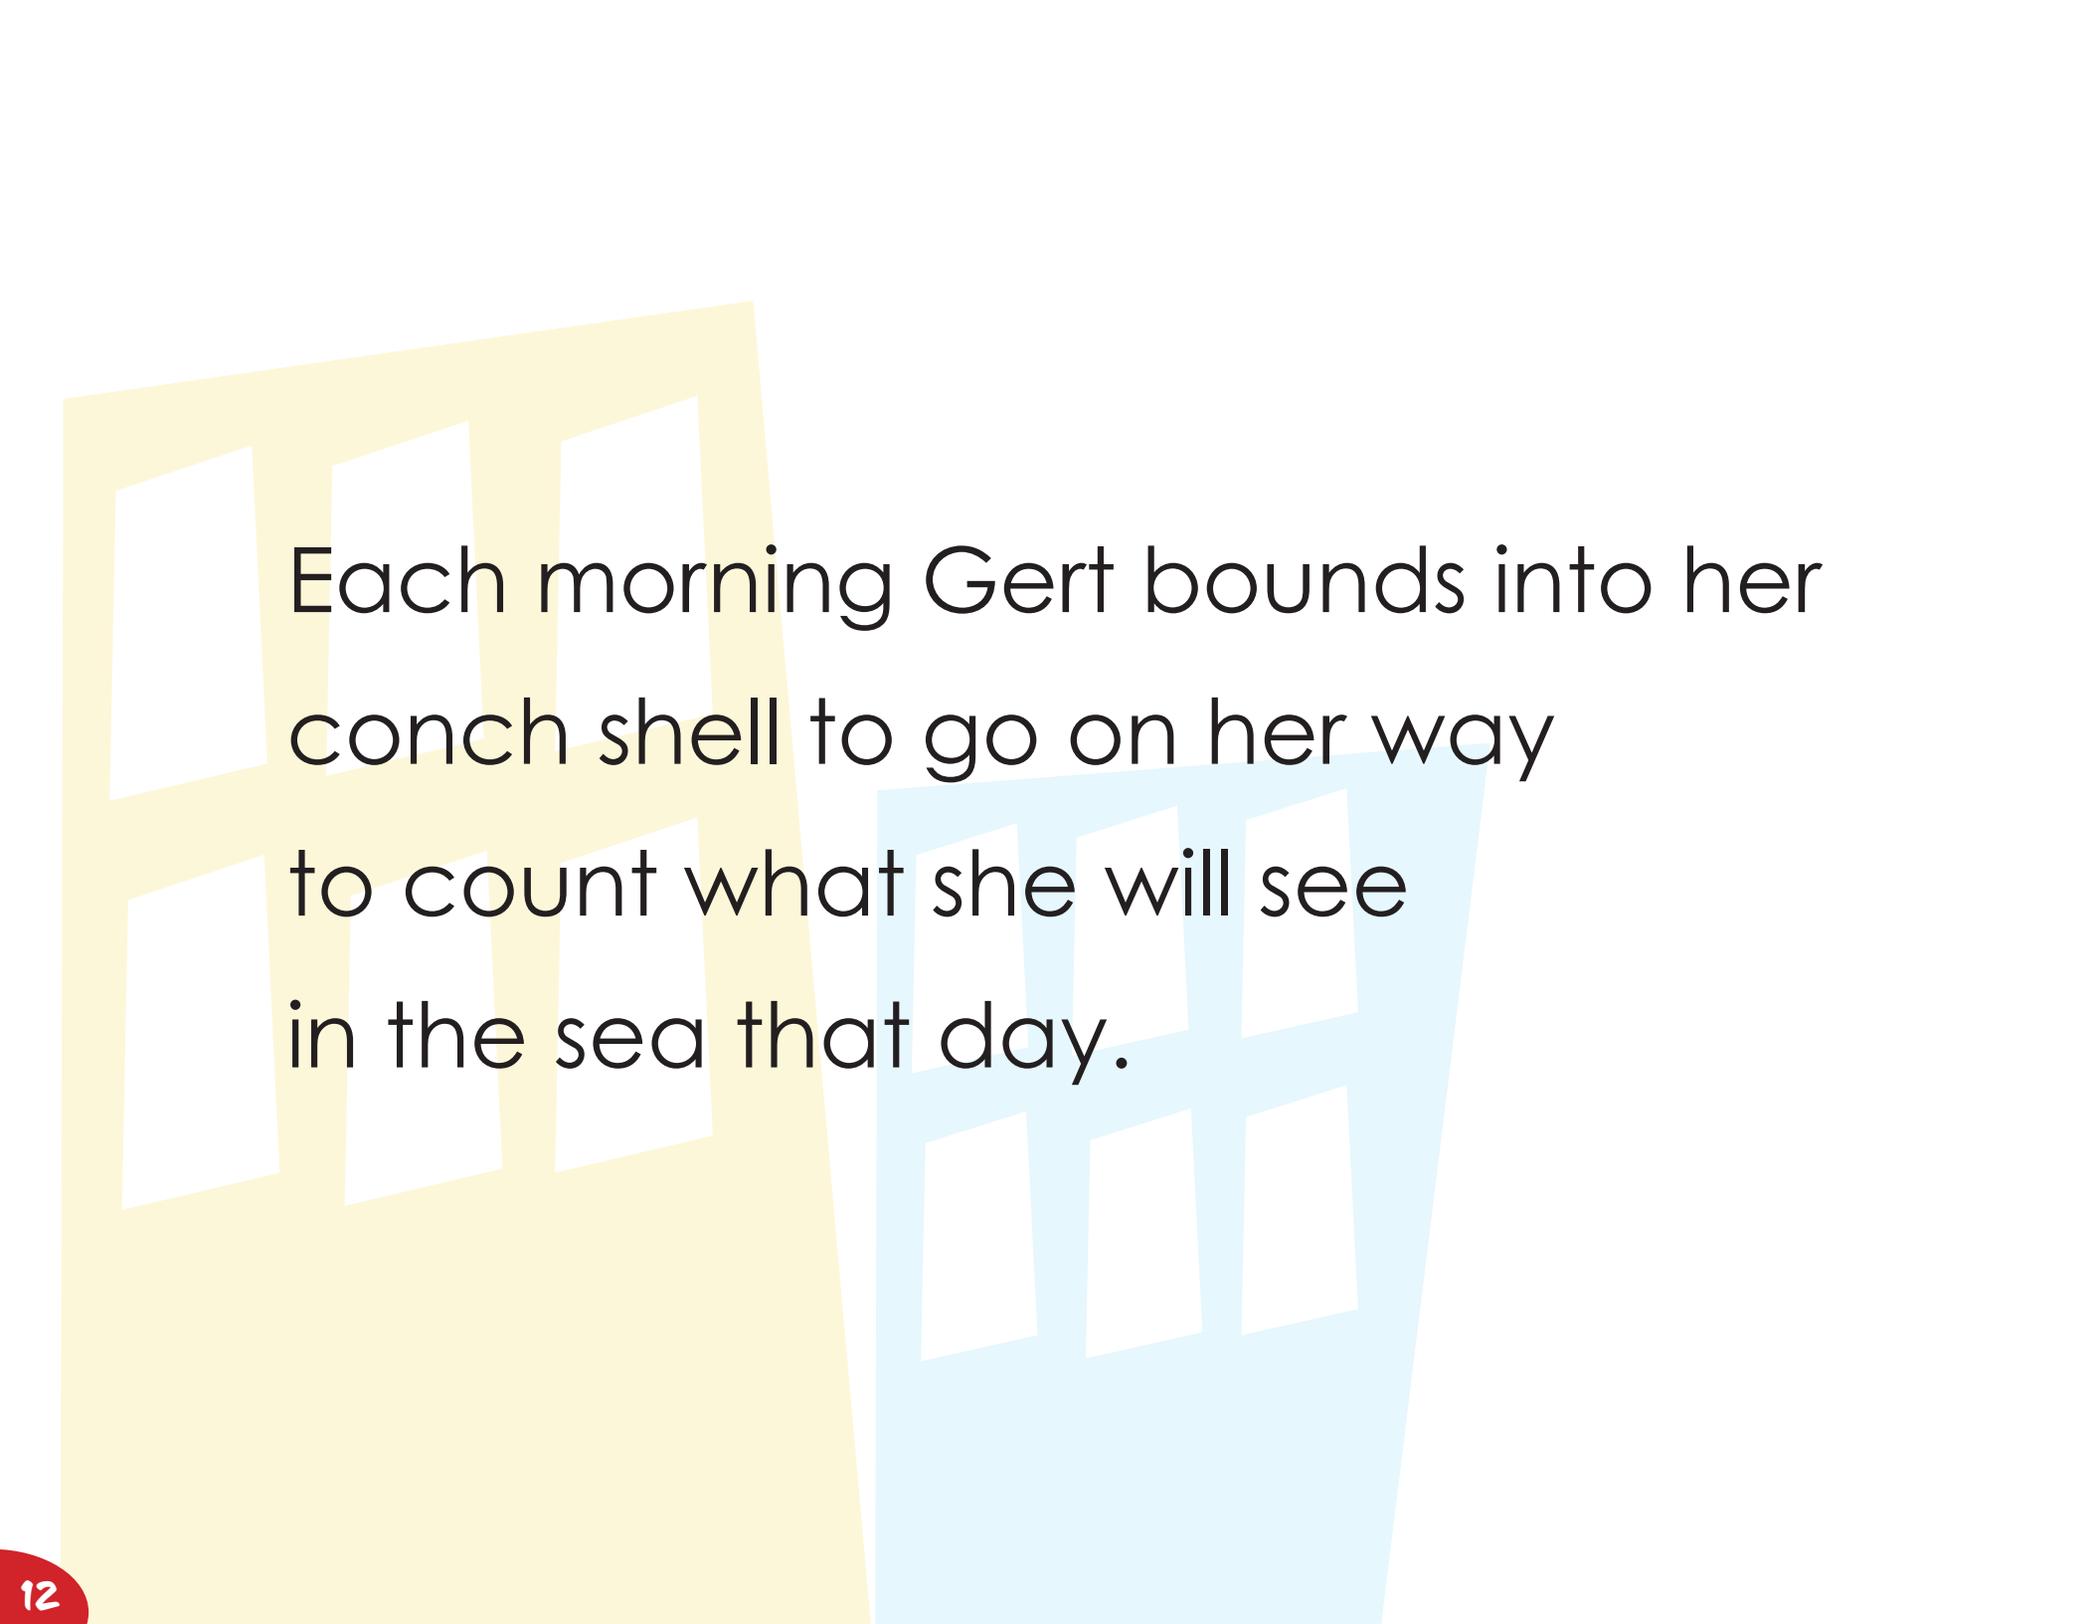

Now numbers, you will see,
are Gert's claim to fame.
Counting everything is this "SEE turtle's" game.

Mild Dunes Marina Boat Rentals

GERT
The Sea
Turtle

The background features two overlapping grid patterns. The left one is yellow and the right one is light blue. Both grids are tilted slightly to the right. The text is centered over the intersection of these two patterns.

Each morning Gert bounds into her conch shell to go on her way to count what she will see in the sea that day.

So today she sets her sail and heads out with no fear.

The first thing Gert spots is 1 purple pier.

Along she keeps floating,
then she glances to her right;
2 sea horses are racing with all of their might.

GO

As an enormous wave approaches,
Gert can clearly see 3 of the biggest jelly fish that could ever be.

Krunchy Kream Jelly Donuts at Jolly Beach Bakery

As Gert breaks through the waves she holds on mighty tight.
When she comes up for air
there in view is a sight.

A very silly sight which makes Gert start to laugh.
There are 4 polka-dot crabs dancing on a raft.

Suddenly, the wind blows so hard whirling Gert right on by...

OOPS! She bumps into 5

beach balls stacked to the sky.

In the distance there are children who are crying out loud because 6 of their fish kites are stuck in a cloud.

As her journey continues, she searches here and there.
Look! 7 frisky dolphins leaping high into the air.

As quick as a shot, through the salty water sprang an 8 legged octopus who sang and Sang and SANG!

Gert rides the waves,
heading back toward the land.
What do you know, there she counts
9 fishing poles planted in the sand.

As Gert stands on the shore thinking about her day, along sail 10 colorful boats—
the breeze whisking them away.

She continues with her counting as the day comes to an end.
Gert will return tomorrow to explore her world again.

THIS BOOK BELONGS TO:

BIOGRAPHY

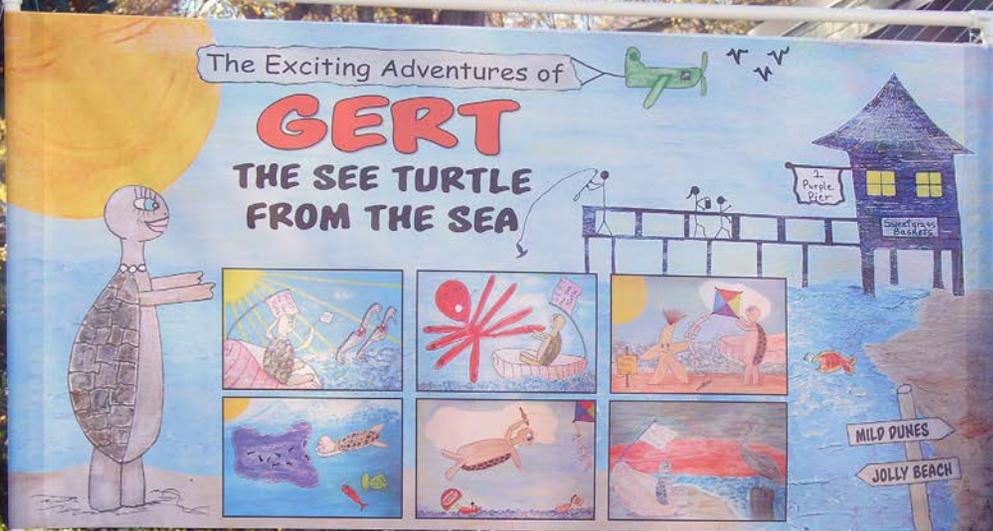

Maxine Moody Poston

Though I grew up an army brat, I lived a large part of my childhood in my father's hometown of Lake City, SC, while he did tours of duty in Korea and Vietnam. I married my high school sweetheart, Hal, on July 4, 1976. We have 3 grown children: Elizabeth, Eric, and Lane. My husband and I now reside in Flat Rock, NC. In 1991, when my sons were 1 and 4, I created the "Gert the SEE Turtle" books to help my sons learn to read, count numbers, know their colors, understand emotions, etc. My then twelve-year-old daughter was the inspiration for Gert (an acronym for General Education with Respect to Turtles).

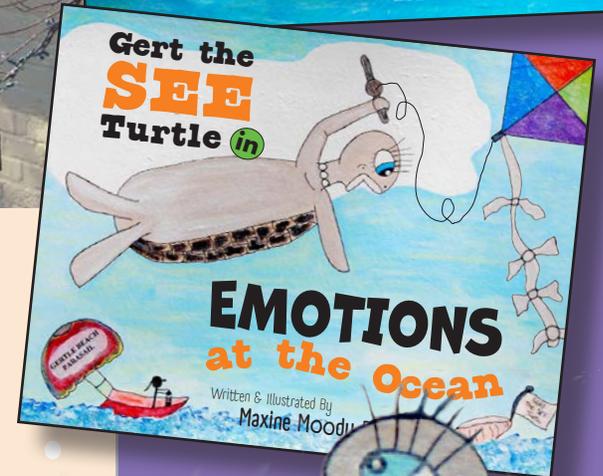

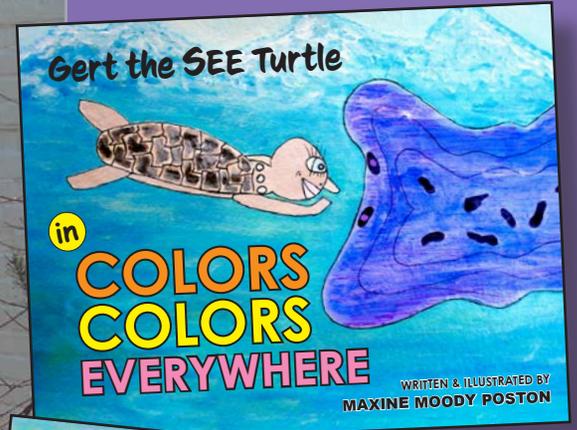

Gert wants to encourage children to enjoy observing and learning about their world every day. After all, Gert's first love is learning and she wants all young people to want, and be able, to learn as much as she does.

*A visit to the Sea
Turtle Hospital at the South Carolina Aquarium In Charleston, SC*

MAKE SURE TO PICK UP
ALL OF GERT'S ADVENTURES!

I want to give a heartfelt thank you to Manon Houle, from Imagewerks Productions, for all her hard work and patience with me while designing the "Gert the SEE Turtle" books.

"Thank you, my friend, for bringing your artistic giftedness, laughter, and fun to our work sessions in putting the Gert books together. Thank you, especially, for making a dream of mine come true"

With love, Maxine

Krunchy Kream Jelly Donuts at Jolly Beach Bakery

ISBN 978-0-615-52446-7
5 1595 >
9 780615 524467